

WORKING HOLIDAY

The Working Holiday Course prepares participants for a successful working holiday in Australia or Canada by teaching essential English skills for daily life, work, and social settings. It provides job application support on online platforms and offers cultural insights to help participants integrate smoothly. Interactive lessons simulate real-life scenarios to build confidence and practical language abilities. The course equips learners with the skills and knowledge needed to thrive in an English-speaking environment and make their experience enriching and unforgettable.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Develop effective English communication skills for professional and social contexts, essential for a working holiday in Australia or Canada.
- Learn job application skills, including creating resumes, writing cover letters, and preparing for interviews.
- Gain insights into cultural norms and practices in Australia and Canada for smooth integration and respectful interactions.
- Build confidence and competence in practical English use through interactive lessons and real-life scenario simulations.
- Enhance problem-solving skills and adaptability to handle challenges during the working holiday.
- Improve networking abilities to foster personal and professional growth abroad.

ENROLL NOW!

www.cellaenglish.com

TARGET LEARNERS

The Working Holiday Course is designed for individuals with at least a CEFR A2 level of English proficiency, providing basic communication skills for routine tasks. It helps learners quickly enhance their English to meet the requirements for living and working in Australia or Canada.

The course requires a minimum one-month commitment, with progress depending on each student's dedication and learning ability. Ideal for motivated individuals, it prepares participants to integrate smoothly into English-speaking environments and succeed in professional and social settings.

TYPE	CLASS	DESCRIPTION
1:1	Interview	Students will practice key job interview techniques and learn to anticipate common questions. They will receive constructive feedback to refine their responses and improve overall performance. Additionally, the class will help students deliver effective self-introductions, ensuring they can confidently present themselves in any interview scenario. Through mock interviews, role-playing, and personalized coaching, this class aims to build the skills and confidence needed to excel in job interviews, preparing students for a successful working holiday experience. Learning Objectives - Students will learn and practice effective job interview techniques, including how to answer common and challenging questions. - Students will develop the ability to anticipate and prepare for a variety of interview questions, enhancing their readiness and confidence. - Students will practice and perfect their self-introductions, ensuring they can present themselves clearly and professionally. - Students will receive personalized feedback on their interview performance, helping them to identify strengths and areas for improvement. - Through repeated practice and coaching, students will build the confidence needed to perform well in real job interviews. - Students will enhance their overall communication skills, making them more effective and articulate during interviews.
	Writing	Students will learn essential writing skills for everyday tasks, such as filling out forms, composing emails, and writing various letters. The class also emphasizes creating compelling resumes to enhance job prospects during their working holiday. Through practical exercises and personalized feedback, students will build the confidence and ability to handle both personal and professional writing requirements effectively. Learning Objectives - Students will learn how to accurately and efficiently fill out various forms required in everyday life and professional settings. - Students will develop the skills to write clear, concise, and effective emails for different purposes, including professional and personal communication. - Students will practice writing different types of letters, such as formal, informal, and business letters, ensuring they can communicate appropriately in various contexts. - Students will learn how to create a comprehensive and compelling resume that highlights their skills and experiences, making them attractive candidates to potential employers. - Students will gain the ability to write persuasive cover letters that complement their resumes and enhance their job applications. - Through practical exercises, students will improve their overall writing skills, enabling them to handle everyday writing tasks with confidence. - Students will receive constructive feedback on their writing, helping them to identify areas for improvement and refine their skills.
	Career Readiness	Students will practice essential workplace English expressions and terminology through role-plays and job application simulations. They will research job markets in Australia and Canada to explore roles and companies, gaining insight into the employment landscape. The class focuses on job-related vocabulary and analyzing job postings to tailor applications effectively. This practical approach equips students with the skills and knowledge needed to succeed in their working holiday careers. Learning Objectives - Students will master essential English expressions and terminology needed for effective communication in the workplace. - Through role-plays and job application simulations, students will gain practical experience in applying for jobs and handling work scenarios. - Students will learn how to research job markets in Australia and Canada, gaining insights into various job roles and companies. - Students will study and expand their vocabulary related to job applications and specific job roles, enhancing their ability to understand and use job-related language. - Students will develop the skills to analyze job postings, identifying key information and tailoring their applications accordingly. - Students will practice and refine their interview skills, preparing them to confidently present themselves to potential employers. - Students will gain an understanding of workplace culture in Australia and Canada, helping them to integrate smoothly and interact effectively with colleagues.

TYPE	CLASS	DESCRIPTION
GC	Intercultural Communication	Students will learn about the cultures, customs, and business etiquette of Australia and Canada, including Australian English expressions and slang. Practical simulations like navigating airports and using public transportation will prepare them for real-life situations, helping them communicate confidently during their working holiday. Learning Objectives - Students will gain a deep understanding of the cultures, customs, and business etiquette of both Australia and Canada, enabling them to interact respectfully and effectively. - Students will learn and practice Australian English expressions and slang, enhancing their ability to communicate like a local. - Through simulations, students will develop the skills needed to navigate airports, use public transportation, and find accommodation, ensuring they can handle everyday situations confidently. - Students will improve their overall communication skills, particularly in intercultural contexts, making them more adaptable and effective in diverse environments. - Students will enhance their problem-solving abilities by dealing with real-life scenarios in a controlled, supportive environment. - Students will build confidence in their ability to manage different aspects of their working holiday experience.
	Cultural Insight (Working Holiday)	Students will analyze popular Australian sitcoms to understand character behaviors, humor, and cultural elements. Guided discussions will explore Australian humor and social interactions, helping students connect with the culture and enrich their working holiday experience. Learning Objectives - Students will gain a deeper understanding of Australian cultural elements, including social norms, values, and behaviors, as depicted in sitcoms. - Students will learn to recognize and appreciate the unique aspects of Australian humor, enhancing their ability to engage in social interactions. - Students will analyze character behaviors in sitcoms to understand different personality types and social dynamics within the Australian context. - Through discussions, students will develop an appreciation for the cultural diversity and richness of Australia, fostering a more inclusive mindset. - By watching and analyzing sitcoms, students will improve their listening skills, particularly in understanding colloquial language and slang. - Students will enhance their critical thinking skills by interpreting and discussing various cultural elements and their implications.
	Pronunciation	The Pronunciation Skills class helps working holiday students adapt to Australian and Canadian accents. It focuses on improving pronunciation, including vowel and consonant sounds, intonation, and stress patterns. Students will also learn common expressions and slang to sound more natural and confident. By the end, they'll be better equipped to understand and communicate effectively, enhancing their working holiday experience. Learning Objectives - Students will learn to understand and adapt to Australian and Canadian accents, improving their overall comprehension. - Students will practice and refine their pronunciation of vowel and consonant sounds specific to Australian and Canadian English. - Students will master the intonation and stress patterns used in these accents, enhancing their natural speech flow. - Students will become familiar with common expressions and slang, helping them to sound more natural and confident in conversations. - Students will improve their listening skills, enabling them to better understand native speakers in various contexts. - Through consistent practice, students will build confidence in their ability to communicate clearly and effectively in Australian and Canadian English.
	Conversation	Students will practice English for casual conversations, focusing on topics like travel and hobbies to enhance their conversational skills. Through interactive activities, they'll learn to initiate, maintain, and conclude conversations confidently. This class aims to build fluency, making social interactions during their working holiday more enjoyable and successful. Learning Objectives - Students will develop the ability to engage in casual conversations with ease, enhancing their fluency in everyday English. - Students will practice discussing specific topics such as travel, hobbies, and other areas of interest, improving their ability to converse on a variety of subjects. - Students will learn techniques for initiating conversations, helping them to start interactions confidently. - Students will practice maintaining conversations, including asking questions, providing responses, and keeping the dialogue flowing naturally. - Students will develop skills to effectively conclude conversations, ensuring they can end interactions politely and appropriately. - Students will enhance their overall social interaction skills, making it easier for them to connect with others during their working holiday. - Students will build confidence in their conversational abilities, making socializing in English more enjoyable and less stressful.